0:00:16.9 Speaker 1: I wanna go. I wanna stop. I wanna go louder. I wanna be louder than I am. I wanna squeeze something between my finger tips. I wanna put nail varnish on my toes but not on my hands. I wanna put hands inside hands. I wanna hold them together and grasp them really tightly. I wanna see better than I can see. I wanna put my glasses on. I wanna put them on but not look at lights 'cause then it makes them go frayed. I wanna fray something. I wanna pull it apart. I wanna make it go change. I wanna make it change colour. I wanna change colours in the sky. I wanna put a rainbow inside my... Inside my head. I wanna put it inside my ears like between my two ears, and move my head around so that it separates. I wanna separate something. I wanna separate myself. I wanna shut myself down, cut myself in half and then put the two halves of myself on another sides of the room. I want to go faster. I wanna be free. I wanna put myself in here. I wanna be down in the bottom of the sea. I wanna put myself under the sea and then put the sand on top of my face and not drown. I wanna be able to breathe. I wanna put my feet down.

0:01:06.4 S1: I wanna put my foot down. I wanna put my foot down and say no. I wanna say no to someone. I wanna be better at saying no. I wanna put my teeth back in my mouth and then I wanna swallow them and put them in my stomach, and then shoot them out through my belly button. I want to put my belly button on the floor and then put my face on top of it. I wanna put my face somewhere. I wanna put my face somewhere. I wanna put my hair in a really nice style. I wanna know how to do that. I wanna know how to look after myself. I wanna put myself first for once. I wanna put myself first. I wanna put myself in something better than I am. I wanna change something. I wanna change something really big. I wanna put it underneath this guy and then flip it over and put it upside down and then say, "Aaaah. I wanna... Aahh."

0:02:22.9 Speaker 2: I noticed a change of furniture and I noticed your eyes. I noticed how many of you there are. I noticed your spectacles. I noticed your glasses. I noticed your pump bags across your chest. I noticed your wheelchairs. I noticed my desire to hop in them and maybe I'll do that a little bit later. I noticed my desire to take control of you. I noticed my desire to come sit next to you. I noticed my desire. I have so many desires. I noticed a lot of cheeky things I wanna be doing maybe later in another time in a more appropriate space with you. I noticed the sweat falling into my eyes. I noticed that it's salty. I noticed that it's stingy. I noticed you. I noticed my breath. I noticed I'm holding, I'm clenching the corduroy trousers with my left hand. I noticed I'm doing a lot of things to just to keep my balance. I noticed a lot of things. I noticed tension in my neck. I noticed you little cheeky little pain taking a photo of me. I noticed the things that I wanna be a part of. And I noticed you looking at me. I noticed your teeth. I noticed your stripes. I noticed your moustache. I noticed your grey long hair. I noticed that's a choice you've decided to do. I noticed your jewelry. I noticed your lipstick. I noticed your masks. I noticed your smiles. I noticed your paper. I

0:08:54.1 Speaker 5: There was a cold damp that was full of light and full of cloudy things. There was a cold damp that was full of light and full of cloudy things that kind of rippled and sent a ricochet through the air and through the vibrations that could be felt through some kind of thing that was a container. It was cold and it was damp, and it was quiet and it was cool. And then there was something that was kind of vibrating and it sent a ricochet through the atmosphere or the thing, the container. There was a container which had a lid and once the lid lifted, it could be felt from really far and wide. It was cold. It was cool. It was damp. And there was a vibration, a ricochet that sent something into the atmosphere, like a container that could be opened up and put a lid on. You could stuff things inside. It would just kind of... It would kind of roll like that and it would be full of... Like a tunnel. You could push... You push through things like a tunnel and turn on the light. It was a cold, cool, damp air and it kind of vibrated. And there was a ricochet and it sent through the atmosphere or the container.

0:09:49.2 S5: There was a container that opened up and it rolled like that into the air, and then something was underneath. There was something underneath that kind of was pressing. That was pressing forward through a tunnel and you pressed yourself through that tunnel and you pushed yourself forward into that tunnel. And you pressed so hard that you just kind of opened up and rolled and rolled and rolled and rolled and evaporated into something.

0:12:00.0 Speaker 6: We needed to pull ourself up from the dust. To pull ourself out of the ground. To pull ourself like weeds. Pull ourself right out of the floor until we grew. Grew to the standard, standard, standard. The standard, the standing on our own two feet. We needed to stand above the sun and we needed our head in the clouds. We needed to be bigger than we believe we could be, just by believing we had to be more. We had to be more than we knew we could be. Be here. Be here now. Be with us. Be together. Be apart. Be alone together. Just be here. Be the best version of yourself and just be, the second letter in the alphabet or be a buzzing bee. Whichever b you prefer, just be. Be here. Be there. Be everywhere. Be everything that you ever dreamt of. Be bigger than your dreams. Be untied, unbound, unrelenting. Be peaceful. B, b, b, b, b, b, b. So many B's. I have one b in my name. One too many.
